THAT FATEFUL AUGUST 17

ALL EYES ON PREMIER'S 'PANDORA'S BOX'

Pact Parleys Keep Simla Busy

(From Our Special Correspondent)
SIMLA, August 11.

There was a further meeting of the Sikh and Muslim leaders today on the communal question, but the results of the talks are not yet available. There is no doubt that every one's eye is now fixed on August 17, when the terms of the communal award would be announced.

OFFICIALDOM HAPPY.

As regards the negotiations, Official circles are happy that attempts are being made to bring about a common understanding and that these have led to a considerable improvement of atmosphere in the province. It is held that, if these negotiations succeed and later on the Hindus join the common agreement, the Government would entertain any pact so arrived at.

HOPES OF AGREEMENT.

It is also made clear here in responsible circles that the authorities concerned would not endorse any pact which offers some seats to the Sikhs at the expense of the Hindus who are a minority in the province.

Thus hopes of a tripartite agreement are being entertained if the present negotiations are conducted in a fair and accommodating spirit on all sides.

TABLE TALKS.

As regards the news published recently about the luncheon at the house of Chaudhri Zafarullah in your columns, I am sorry that there was a mistake regarding the Governor of Punjab.

It was the Governor of U. P. and not of the Punjab who was present at the Luncheon. It was of course, only a social function, and there was no discussion whatsoever on any political question. Naturally, now-a-days, the major topic of discussion is the communal award, and talks at the table among the neighbours were no doubt concerned in some cases with the topic of the hour.

SIKH-MUSLIM POURPARLERS

As regards the Sikh-Muslim conference at Rose Cottage, Sardar Ujjal Singh informs me that he has issued a statement to the press in which he has challenged the position taken up by the correspondent of the "Statesman" and upheld the position of your correspondent.

CANADA DICTATES TO BRITAIN

Orders-in-Council Against Soviet?

OTTAWA, August 11.

Britain and Canada are on the verge of an agreement, according to a well-informed Canadian source. The question of Russian dumping is said to be out of the way. Britain having agreed to secure the necessary legislative authority to proceed by Orders-in-Council, under which she will take appropriate action against any country wrecking the market by dumping.

Canada is believed to have agreed to make further concessions for iron and steel, while textiles are being considered. Britain is rumoured to be ready to discuss preference for wheat and other natural products.—Reuter.

NO CO-OPERATION, NO RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT

—:o:—

European Association Again

CALCUTTA, August 11.

"There is growing uneasiness among members of the Association, who feel that in many provinces there does not at present exist that measure of co-operation which alone can ensure the success of the reforms and it is felt that continuance of the policy of lawlessness and obstruction by the Congress and the campaign of murder by terrorists must lead ultimately to suspension of progress," declares a statement made upon the political situation based on the result of meetings of the All-India Council of the European Association held in Calcutta on August 8 and 10.

"INSUPERABLE DANGERS."

The statement proceeds: "In the inauguration of such far-reaching reforms as are contemplated by His Majesty's Government there are of necessity great difficulties and dangers which include the growth of revolutionary movements. These difficulties and dangers become almost insuperable where necessary co-operation is absent and the Council in drawing the attention of Government to this fact would emphasise that the association is strongly opposed to the introduction of responsible government in those provinces where such co-operation is absent and where economic and financial conditions necessary for its successful working do not exist."

The statement affirms that the Association's co-operation has been given in full at every stage in working the details of the constitutional reforms.—A.P.

Some workmen, including over a dozen lino-type operators employed in the "Madras Mail" printing press struck work this morning. The management, however, made arrangements for the issue of the paper as usual.—A.P.

P. W. D. STRIKE CONTINUES.

The P. W. D. workshop lockout continues. It is reported that negotiations are being carried on between the authorities and the Union.—A.P.

SUBHAS TO HAVE HIS OWN DOCTOR

—:o:—

It is understood that the Local Government have received intimation from the Government of India permitting the examination of Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose by one of his own doctors from Calcutta in consultation with two other doctors from here.—A. P.

REBELS DOWN ARMS

LONDON, August 11.

MADRID.—It is officially stated that rebels in Seville have surrendered and Sanjurjo has fled in the direction of Portugal.

Complete Collapse Of Monarchist Revolt

LATER.

The Monarchist revolt collapsed utterly early in the morning when Sanjurjo fled and, it is reported, was arrested later.

The authoritie took over the control of Seville without incident.

REVOLUTIONARY GENERAL STRIKE

Revolutionary general strike was declared in protest and the mob burned the club used by wealthy land-owners. The Mayor and Governor have now resumed their posts and many other officers and civilians concerned in the rioting have fled.

Mob rioting in protest is reported from other centres. The military judges are investigating the rising but reports of summary execution are premature.—Reuter.

TIGHTENING OF SCREW

—:o:—

MADRID, August 11.

The chief result of the abortive insurrectionary movement is expected to be the tightening of the screw by the Government, of which the suppression of all Right-Wing newspapers is an indication. It is feared that anarchists and communists will take full advantage of the reaction to pursue their campaign in favour of Left-Wing Labour. It is evident that the officers and a handful of Civilians who participated in the rising failed to organise any teamwork, though general Sanjurjo, who is now a prisoner enroute to the Capital, was in Madrid on August 9 from where he travelled to Seville.

The Civil Guard in Seville which once worshipped General Sanjurjo has now deserted him. Communications with Seville which General Sanjurjo cut off are now restored, and the city has quietened, though there were sharp bursts of firing in streets this morning.

COLLAPSE AFTER FLIGHT.

It appears that General Sanjurjo assumed powers in Seville without any difficulty after depriving the Civil Governor and other officials of their posts. Thereafter, he was unopposed, though only a part of the Civil garrison joined him.

This disloyal section took up a strong position in the centre of the city, but with General Sanjurjo's flight the movement collapsed. Great numbers of troops are now converging on Seville, but general opinion is that there will be no fighting. Arrests in Madrid include General Damaso Berenger, Primo De Rivera's successor, who was recently released from prison on parole.—Reuter.

Somerset All Out For 177

—:o:—

Indians Lead In First Innings

LONDON, August 11.

Following are the closing scores at end of the second day's play in the match between All-India and Somerset at Weston-Super-Mare:—

All-India 285 and 201 for 7.
Somerset 177.

For addition of 20 runs to the overnight total of 265 Indians' first innings against Somerset at Westonsupermare ended to-day.

The weather was beautiful and the wicket good. Kapadia was dismissed by Wellard for 5, while White accounted for Nissar after he had scored 6. Jogindrasingh remained not out with 16.

The innings thus terminated for 285 runs.

SOMERSET FIRST INNINGS.

J. Lee and Longrigg opened Somerset first innings, but Nissar effected an early separation clean-bowling Longrigg for 5. Young who replaced Longrigg was accounted for by the same bowler but only after he had hit 5 successive fours off Jehangirkhan in the innings lasting 28 minutes during which he collected 25. Kinnersley joined Lee, but retired soon after bowled by Jehangirkhan for 6.

At lunch time when the total stood at 90 for 3 wickets, J. Lee

AFTER LUNCH PLAY

When the play was resumed after lunch, Somerset carried their total to 117 at which their first innings terminated.

White was out l. b. w. to Nissar for the addition of a single to his pre-lunch total, the same bowler claiming Lee's wicket through catch by Kapadia, when that batsman was two short of his half century. Nissar at this period had taken 4 wickets for 30 runs.

Ingle and Case now became associated at his wicket but Jehangir Khan broke up the partnership, bowling Ingle when he had scored eight. Burrough joined Case, but the latter was dismissed by Naidu for 18. Wellard fell to the same bowler through catch by Jogindrasingh for two. Bennet and Hill who followed provided two more victims for Nissar, Bennet being dismissed for Duck and Hill for 5. Burrough remained not out with 34.

SENTENCE QUASHED

Sholapur Dictator's Speech

Not Instigation To Shoot Officers But Laudable Advice

BOMBAY, Thursday.

Keshav Baibhai Joshi, one time "Dictator" of Sholapur Congress Committee, was acquitted by the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Nanavaty at the High Court on the charge of instigating the police to shoot their officers (sec. 115 of the Penal Code), and his sentence of 4 years' R. I. was set aside.

Mr. D. A. Tuljapurker appeared for the accused in appeal.

The charge was in respect of a speech, delivered by the accused, as the Dictator of Sholapur, in which he told the audience: "No one should hate the police. After all, they are ours. In course of time these policemen will fight on our behalf and will fire shots at their own principal officers. Hence nobody should hate the police."

It was contended for the accused in appeal that the speech did not sustain the charge under Section 115 (abetment of an offence punishable with death or transportation for life) There was no basis for the prosecution suggestion that the accused instigated the police to shoot at their officers, which was the subject-matter of the charge.

NOT INSTIGATION.

In delivering judgment, the Chief Justice observed that the question was whether the speech amounted to an instigation of an offence punishable with death or transportation for life. The gist of the accused's argument appeared to be that the public ought not to hate the police, because the police are Indians, and in course of time will cease to support their officers. If the words are taken literally, they amounted to a prophecy as to what was likely to happen in the future, and did not amount to instigation. The only actual instigation founded on that prophesy was that people should not hate the police—an advice in itself laudable. In his lordship's view, instigation to the police to shoot their officers—which was the charge—was not a necessary implication from the words used by the accused. That being so, his lordship held that the offence under Section 115 was not proved, and set aside the sentence of 4 years' R. I. on this charge.

Mr. Justice Nanavaty concurred.

OTHER CONVICTIONS UPHELD.

The Sessions Judge had also sentenced the accused to 2 years R. I. under section 117 of the Penal Code, and 6 months' R. I. under section 23 of Ordinance II of 1932. The first charge under section 117 of the Penal Code, which was in respect of the above-mentioned speech, was for abetment of an offence other than those punishable with death or transportation. The second charge under section 23 of the Ordinance was in respect of another speech he delivered at Sholapur in January last as the Dictator of the Congress Committee. Both these sentences were upheld in appeal.

GERMAN REPUBLICAN ANNIVERSARY.

LONDON, August 11.

BERLIN.—Threats of Nazis to interfere in to-day's observance of the 13th anniversary of the republican constitution did not materialise and celebrations passed off quietly.

President Hindenburg and members of the Government met in the Reichstag. The Minister of Interior Barron Von Gayl, addressed the audience emphasising the need for reforming the constitution which was separating rather than uniting the nation, but which was still the foundation on which all must stand. He suggested reform of the electoral system, the establishment of the Upper House and the same Government for Prussia, as for the Reich. After Von Papen had called for cheers for the United German people, President Hindenburg took salute of the Reichswehr guard of honour drawn up outside the Reichstag in the presence of a huge crowd which enthusiastically cheered the President.

Ten thousand Berlin police had earlier paraded outside the ex-Kaiser's palace in celebration of the anniversary.—Reuter.

INDIA'S SECOND INNINGS.

At tea time the score stood at 89 for 3 wickets, Wazir Ali being not out with 9.

War On Gambling Dens

POLICE HAUL BETTING SLIPS AND CASH SEQUEL TO RAIDS ON NIGHT CLUBS

A regular offensive has been launched by the De Lisle Road police on gambling dens in the north of the City, and within the last fortnight, more than half a dozen places were raided and nearly 30 persons were taken in custody on charges of accepting bets in "sutta" and American futures, gaming and cardsharping.

The police discovered that these places were so well conducted that they attracted little suspicion and were known to be gambling dens to a few professional gamblers who were regular visitors. There was also a system by which the owners of these night clubs were promptly warned, if the police were seen anywhere near the dens.

RAID IN SAMUEL STREET.

On Wednesday night, the police raided a room on the first floor of a building in Samuel Street and arrested seven persons. The police strongly suspected that a man named Ramchandra Ganpat was running two or three gambling dens and kept a strict watch on all these places.

The raid was carried out by Sub-Inspectors Savant and Gawde under a warrant issued by the Deputy Commissioner of Police, Crimes Branch.

CASH AND SLIPS.

The police on noticing several persons collecting on the first floor of Raja Kamati's chawl surrounded it, but in the meanwhile, a watchman gave a shrill whistle to warn the occupants of the room. However, the officers dashed into the building and arrested 7 men in the room. The police, it is alleged, found a larg number of betting slips and some cash.

The police also raided the previous night a hut in Nagu Sayaji Wadi and arrested Laxman Kashinath, the owner of the house and six others. A search of the place, it is alleged, yielded a number of betting slips and Rs. 150 in cash.

The arrested men have been bailed out.

MUSLIM ACCUSED TO BE WHIPPED FOR LOOTING

Four Others Jailed For House-Breaking During Riots

BOMBAY, Thursday.

"Public ought to be protected from such persons, and physical punishment was the only way, as the accused had four previous convictions," remarked Mr. Oscar H. Brown, additional Presidency Magistrate, Mazgaon Police Court, to-day in sentencing Dorallisha Bakshalli, who was charged with looting a shop in Pakhmodia Street along with others, to suffer twelve stripes on bare buttocks.

LOOTING HINDU SHOP

The case for the prosecution was that on May 13 last six Muslims including Dorallisha Bakshalli, were found looting a Hindu shop of Bhavoo Hira, in Pakhmodia Street, and on taking a stock of the articles, it was found that property worth Rs. 5,612 was looted by several Muslim hooligans. The accused were arrested by sub-inspectors Patel and Samant of the Maharpavdi Police Station.

The Magistrate convicted them all on charges of house-breaking and looting and sentenced them to various terms of imprisonment, except the last one, who was sent to the police surgeon with a view to ascertaining his age.

ALL CONVICTED

The first accused, a Bohri was given one day's simple imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 200, in default six months' rigorous imprisonment. The second, third and fifth accused were awarded six months' rigorous imprisonment. The fourth accused was sentenced to suffer twelve stripes as stated at the outset.

As the fifth accused, who was deported for a period of two years, returned to Bombay within two months and a half, he was put up again for trial before the same magistrate, who convicted and sentenced him to one year's rigorous imprisonment.

Story Of Marwari And His Deceased Mistress

BOMBAY, Thursday.

Further evidence was recorded by Mr. I. N. Mehta, Presidency Magistrate, Girgaon, where four Christians, Francis Rego, Antonio Miranda, John Fernandez and Remedio D'Souza stand charged with obtaining money and jewels from a Marwari by posing as the mother and relatives of his deceased mistress Kalyani.

Antone Monteiro, tailor from Bandra who was also arrested in this connection and later discharged, giving evidence for the prosecution deposed that he knew the accused one, two and three and that he was present in a toddy shop where all of them met and where accused No. 4 was asked to pose as the mother of Kalyanibai. He also stated that after No. 4 had posed and duped the Marwari, the money was obtained from the latter. On the next day (June 1) all the accused divided the money, and jewels between themselves.

Meanwhile, one Viegas, who had not received his share, had asked witness to pay him, as he had been told to do so. Witness, however, told Viegas that he had spent all the money and could not pay him. Thereupon Viegas suggested it would be better for them to go and see the Marwari. On going to the latter and telling him he had been cheated, the man asked for proof of what they said. Viegas told him he could point out the house where the fourth accused lived.

This was on June 12, and on the next day, the house was pointed out to the Marwari who informed the police.

Witness was arrested afterwards and subsequently the others were also arrested. After a remand into custody, witness was discharged and made a witness.

Messrs. N. H. Mungroleker, B. V. Dhondi, and M. N. Talpade appeared for the accused. Mr. M. N. Chhatrapati was watching the case on behalf of the complainant. Mr. H. A. Elias, conducted the prosecution.

The case is proceeding.

Harkare's Latest

BOMBAY, Thursday.

Mr. G. K. Harkare appeared today before Sir Hormazd.ar Dastur, Chief Presidency Magistrate, Bombay, and presented a novel information, which is perhaps the first of its kind ever presented in a judicial court. Mr. Harkare was the complainant, and he was also the accused, according to the information.

No specific charge was mentioned in the application, but he described himself as the complainant as well as the accused.

The petition began with the statement of the fact that he filed an information against the Chief Presidency Magistrate in 1930. He also stated that he was later on arrested under the Lunacy Act, and kept as a "non-dangerous lunatic" in the mental hospital at Thana. He was released from Thana in 1931.

The gist of the petition was contained in its concluding paragraph wherein he requested the magistrate 'That steps be taken to declare me (petitioner) a lunatic."

The magistrate asked Mr. Harkare whether he wished to be declared a lunatic.

"Yes," was the firm reply of Mr. Harkare.

The magistrate rejected the application.

POLICE OFFICER'S CHANCE DISCOVERY

Ex-G. I. P. Man's Loss

BOMBAY, Thursday.

Peter Linnett, who was for some time an encroachment officer of the Bombay Municipality, and till recently in charge of the Chester Club, was arrested yesterday at the Victoria Club by Inspector Stokes and Deputy Inspector Watkins, on a complaint of theft in respect of three currency notes, each of the value of Rs. 1,000, lodged by Mr. Johnson, a retired official of the G. I. P. Railway.

He was placed to-day before the Chief Presidency Magistrate, and remanded to police custody till August 21.

The police in applying for a remand of the accused to custody, stated that Mr. Johnson, when he retired early this year, received provident fund in thousand rupee currency notes. He used to keep three of these notes under a mattress in his room at Mahendra Mansions. As they were stolen he lodged a complaint with the Colaba police.

CHANCE DISCOVERY.

On Monday night Deputy Inspector Watkins saw the accused change a thousand rupee note at Green's Hotel. He took down the number of the note in question, thinking it might be useful to the local C. I. D., who are investigating a case of cheating in which a large number of currency notes are involved.

Mr. Johnson was unable to furnish the numbers of his stolen notes, and the police made inquiries at the bank, which paid his provident fund. The number of one of these notes, it is alleged, talked with the one changed by the accused at the Green's Hotel.

Further inquiries of the police showed that on Monday night the accused and a jockey visited Mr. Johnson in his rooms.

The police arrested the accused in the Victoria Club when they are stated to have recovered from him one thousand rupee note alleged to have been stolen from the room of Mr. Johnson.

PICKETS ARRESTED

BOMBAY, Thursday.

Two persons, who were arrested last night at Sutar Chawl, Sheikh Memon Street, were charged today before the Chief Presidency Magistrate, under section 17, clause 1 and 2 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act.

Police evidence showed that the accused used to employ persons for purposes of picketing.

The accused were sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 50/ on the first charge and to one year's rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 50/ on the second charge, the sentences to run concurrently.

Six months' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 50/ was the sentence passed on a Congress volunteer, who was arrested yesterday on the charge of dissuading customers from going into a chemists' shop at Hanuman Lane.

DISOBEYING ORDERS.

Another person was sentenced to one year's rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 300/ for disobeying the Police Commissioner's order directing him to report himself to the police within tn minutes after his release.

The accused was released yesterday evening and served with an order by the Commissioner of Police, directing him among other things to report himself to the police within ten minutes after his release. He failed to do so and was therefore re-arrested.

ABOLISH CREDIT!

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—When I was young, I had heard the late Mr. Choonilal D Saraiya say that a sinking businessman in Bombay carried on greater and greater outward show to deceive the honest people. He would put diamond rings on his fingers, an imitation pearl necklace round the neck of his wife, would not jump out from his autocar but talk seating inside it and have people attending him and such other many things.

I find the same show still carried out to-day when money is scarce. Creditors are dancing attendence on these debtors who still roam in luxurious autocars and stay in fashional quarters.

To eradicate this pest, will no shrewd businessman, manufacturers, dealers, suppliers and agents do away with indescriminate 'Credit System". This credit system has dug the grave for many. And the sooner the wise people do away with it the better it would be.—Yours, etc.,

Interpellations In Corporation

The first meeting of the current month of the Bombay Municipal Corporation was held on Thursday afternoon, when several items coming from the Standing Committee and the Municipal Commissioner were disposed of.

Replying to questions from Mr. Dosmohmed G. Khairaz regarding a temple recently erected on a footpath near Delisle Road, the Municipal Commissioner said:—

An idol with a shrine has been in existence at the place for many years. The shrine was renewed last year by some unknown persons. The question of compliance with the bye-laws does not arise in case of a structure of this kind, the platform measures 6' x 6' The shrine occupies a space of 4' x 4'.

LATHI CHARGE ON HAWKERS?

Mr. Ramji Bharmal asked:—

(1) Whether a lathi charge was made on the public by the staff of the Encroachment Department in July 1932; (2) What were the reasons of their having made the charge? (3) Is it a fact that some persons who were not hawkers were injured in the charge and treated in a hospital? (4) is it a fact that umbrellas were seized from the hands of members of the public and caps from their heads as encroachments and some of them were subsequently returned without levying removal charges or complaints having been made? (5) Whether the residents of B Ward have approached him personally with a complaint on the subject and if so what action he has taken or preposes to take in the matter.

The Municipal Commissioner replied:—

On the 22nd July last, when the Encroachment Department Staff were removing some encroachments at Masjid Bunder Road, they were stoned and attacked by the hawkers and members of the public, and it was with difficulty that the Encroachment Staff extricated themselves and cleared away. One Narayan Mulji subsequently appeared before the Superintendent of Licenses and complained that he had received injury near one of his eyes. On being questioned by the Superintendent of Lincenses, he could not say definitely how the injury was caused. It is not known whether he was treated at any hospital. One Swalia Naru, who was caught red handed throwing stones also appeared before the Superintendent of Licenses with a similar complaint about injury on his hip, but on inspection, it did not appear to be more than slight swelling. Nothing is known about his being treated in a hospital.

Three umbrellas which were found near the hawkers' baskets were seized. One umbrella alleged to belong to a customer of one of the hawkers was returned free of charge. One Raimal Ratansy saw the Deputy Municipal Commissioner who directed the Superintendent of Licenses to hold an enquiry and requested Raimal to produce his witnesses. After full enquiry, no further action was found necessary in the matter.

DOCK STRIKE ENDS

—:o:—

Workers Gain Their Points

BOMBAY, Thursday.

The strike of the Cargo Workers in the employ of the Mackinnon Mackenzie and company which was dragging on for the last 20 days came to a successful end this morning. Negotiations were going on between the strikers and the management of the company for the last few days. But owing to the stiff attitude of the management very little progress was made. There was a sudden turn for the better yesterday afternoon when the managing Agent of the compnay Sir Austin Hadow expressed a desire to meet a deputation of the workers. Accordingly a deputation waited upon him yesterday at 4 p.m. and had a long and thorough discussion with him on all points at dispute. As a result of the discussion the company agreed to hold an inquiry into the conduct of Mr. Nazareth and remove Kashiram sarang.

to give Sabaji Fakir his full pension.

to restart the old system as regards leaves.

to give the bargemen extra help during the monsoon.

not to ask the workers to pull the fan or to remove heavy goods to and from the barges.

to give the workers their full rights of pension.

to take back all the strikers and to restore them to their old positions.

not to put anyone to any loss or inconvenience because he has taken part in the strike.

This settlement was placed before a strikers meeting held in the Dock Workers' Union office and was unanimously ratified by the strikers. It was also decided to call off the strike from Thursday morning. The workers received the settlement with great satisfaction.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE

FRIDAY, AUGUST 12, 1932

A SANE ENGLISH VIEW

That every Englishman does not think in terms of repression and ordinances, but can envisage a free India in the near future is proved by a singularly illuminating and thoughtful article by Sir Francis Younghusband in the "Contemporary Review." Sir Francis knows India as well as any of the Die-hard civilians on pension who shout the loudest against her best interests and he is a tried soldier. He has been taking an increasingly helpful interest in Indian affairs for the last few years and he has worked for moderation against Churchills, Lloyds and O'Dwyers. He is not afraid of the surging tide of a militant Indian nationalism, which wants to manage the country's affairs and resents the interference of outsiders. Those people who now inveigh against the efforts of Indians to achieve Swaraj forget that "English Education has played no mean part" in this great mental change, and unless all the lessons of past history are to be falsified in the case of this country, it is difficult to appreciate their unreasoning antagonism towards Indian aspirations.

WELCOMES NEW SPIRIT

Sir Francis, therefore, warmly welcomes the new spirit that is pulsating in India, for he believes the regeneration of the country lies in that direction alone. He writes: "But in its essence the national spirit is the very thing we should most desire for India. We should not be without it. We could do nothing with a supine and listless India." But, unfortunately for this country, it is a "supine and listless India" that the many enemies of her aspirations, who are now working in and out of India, want. These people see nothing good in the Congress, and honestly believe that it has been successfully crushed out of existence by the Ordinances, because innumerable men and women and even boys have been imprisoned under the repressive measures.

INCALCULABLE GOOD

To these people Sir Francis truthfully says: "The Congress leaders for the last 30 or 40 years and latterly Mr. Gandhi, have done incalculable good to India by arousing a patriotic spirit and inspiring, not only the men, but, to an intenser degree, the women with courage and the spirit of self-sacrifice in their country's cause. This national spirit, if suppressed, may cause an explosion, and if allowed to jet off into empty air may be lamentably wasted, but if self-controlled and self-directed may carry India upward to unbelievable heights." That is the view of an Englishman who wants to see India free; but there are Anglo-Indian scribes in India who see nothing in the Congress movement but hooliganism of the worst type, since it is directed by 'hirelings and badmashes and jail birds.' Sir Francis frankly acknowledges that new conditions have brought about a change in Indians and that the old order must give place to a new. To those who believe in the supremacy of the sword for holding down India he says that there should be no question of "showing who is the master" and that "comradeship must be the watchword." All this, we have no doubt, is unpalatable advice to people who believe that only a little additional repression is required to do away with the signs of spiritual discontents among Indians.

RISKS MUST BE RUN

Sir Francis is wise enough to realise that the Congress represents the country and imprisoning its leaders is no solution to the real problem. "If they brought in an ordinance and put Gandhi in jail and seized the Congress leaders, they ran the risk of alienating the real political leaders of the country at the very moment when their co-operation was urgently needed for the task on hand." But that is exactly what Sir Samuel Hoare has done. He thinks that since he has entirely eliminated the Congress leaders from the political stage all that he has to do now is to come to some kind of understanding with short-sighted communalists, who are ready to betray the real interests of the country for the proverbial mess of potage. As Sir Francis rightly says "Risks must be run in any event and if in the working for freedom in seven years there is risk of failure, risk of disorder, risk of financial loss, it will be a risk which Indians and British will run together. And the mere fact of this running the risk together will draw them nearer." No truer or finer words were ever spoken and it is apparent that Sir Francis' understanding of India is real, deep and penetrating. Is the present or any Government in Great Britain capable of rising to this supreme height and doing the right thing by India? We fear not and that is the misfortune of the two countries which destiny has thrown together.

"Shock And Shake"

Owing to the preoccupation of most leaders with intensive political agitation, organised social reform has unfortunately failed to receive during the last two or three years the full measure of attention it deserves. This is all the more regrettable because several items of reform like the removal of untouchability and the abolition of caste have great political value. In these circumstances we specially welcome the Delhi Provincial Hindu Reform Conference held in the capital this week and we wish there could be more such conferences, it being always understood that permanent executive committees will give due attention to the carrying out of the resolutions passed by the conferences. In the case of social reform, nevertheless, even the simple adoption of sound resolutions by representative bodies goes a fair way in building up public opinion in favour of reform. Only, to make some amends for centuries of neglect, the resolutions to be adopted should be radical enough. To use a slogan suggested by Mr. Fenner Brockway for the Independent Labour Party, what Indian society, especially Hindu society, needs now most is a programme that will "shock and shake" it out of its age-long inertia.

RELIGION IN BONDAGE.

The speeches of the President and the Chairman of the Reception Committee at the Delhi Conference and the resolutions adopted there were all of the right kind but did not go far enough. Mr. Ramlal Varma made a good point when he said that since social customs in India were closely bound up with religion, the religion that stood in the way of necessary social reforms itself needs to be reformed. And he attributed the present decadence and disintegration of Hinduism to "blind faith and stupid orthodoxy." Indeed the whole world has suffered terribly from blind faith and stupid orthodoxy, manifested in various forms. Many earnest seekers after Truth have, therefore, felt the urgent need for a revolution in the present crude religious notions of most men it is certainly most anomalous that, while every other field of human knowledge or activity is subject to the sway of Reason religion alone, the most important field, is held in bondage by ancient dogmas and customs, however crude and unscientific.

INDIA'S MALADY.

India is at present suffering from the consequences of blind faith and fanaticism more than any other country. That is why we feel that she needs a larger dose of Rationalism, using the term in its best sense, than any other country. When people still kill each other in the name of religion, it is obvious that their religious notions need a revolution. The Delhi Conference rightly pleaded for the immediate abolition of the disgraceful institution of untouchability and the speedy abolition of the whole system of caste, of which untouchability is only an aggravated expression. It is difficult to describe in mild terms the curse of untouchability and those who defend or extenuate it. We are extremely sorry to note that many who condemn untouchability in principle and who are influential enough to do something towards its abolition do not bestir themselves and are content with mere verbal denunciation. At least the youths of the country should have no patience with a mere show of reform or any illegitimate compromise but should wage a ceaseless, relentless war on untouchability, peacefully defying it whenever desirable.

TEACHING JAPAN A LESSON?

Well-informed observers in Washington state that one of the chief motives which prompted Mr. Stimson, the American Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, to make his statement regarding the implications of the Briand-Kellogg Pact was his desire to clear up the position of his Government in case the Geneva League takes action against any of its recalcitrant members. It is considered in Washington that the speech will encourage the anti-Japanese group in the League to take a strong line when the Lytton Commission's report on Manchuria will be presented to that body.

The American State Department has received indications that the report will be unfavourable to Japan. Its presentation is expected to cause a crisis at Geneva, because the League will then be faced with a dilemma. It will have either to take action against Japanese encroachment in Manchuria or acknowledge its impotence to deal with one if its members. Mr. Stimson's speech is expected to abolish the suspicion largely entertained in Europe that the attitude of the United States towards the League's efforts to make its peace machinery work effectively, is one of aloofness. If Mr. Stimson's speech can be taken to indicate that the American Government can be depended upon to co-operate in the boycott declared by the League against an aggressor nation, it will certainly stimulate the efforts of those members of the League who have always insisted on teaching Japan a lesson if she refuses to abide by the majority decesions at Geneva.

The Chinese attitude over the Manchurian problem is stiffening. The popular protest against the "passive" policy of the Northern military authorities in China has already led to a cabinet crisis and Martial Chang Hsue Hliang, the Commander of China's Northern Forces, has been compelled to resign. The reshuffle in the Nanking cabinet will be in the direction of including political leaders about whose attitude in resisting Japanese agression in Manchuria there is no doubt. If the Lytton Commission's report is in China's favour, the Nanking Government can be expected to utilise this excellent circumstance to the greatest advantage in its representations at Geneva. International opinion is definitely against the Japanese policy of grab in Manchuria. It is to be seen whether the Geneva League will respect that opinion. The League will soon be on its trial.

CIVIL STRIFE IN GERMANY

Will It Lead To Another World Conflagration?

(CONTRIBUTED BY M. C. SHARMA.)

The German elections are over, and despite the heavy increase in the number of Nazi candidates returned to the Reich, the results of the election battles have not been decisive. We are again left to witness the political stalemate in German politics. While the strength of the Socialist Party seems to be waning, the Communists have gained in strength, despite the ruthless repression they were subjected to. This marked increase of Communist influence among the workers, has been the subject of much comment in the international press, and with great ease, it can be attributed to causes, which are rather economic than political. The fact that the Nazis are now the strongest party in the Reich, is a continuous source of danger to the German working class in particular, and the international working class in general.

WHO RULES GERMANY?

Germany has all along been ruled by a veiled dictatorship, which though not openly allying itself with the Nazis, is reported to have a secret understanding with them. How is it that the "Red Front" was declared to be a political menace, and was smashed up— may driven underground, by this dictatorship, while the Nazi "storm detachments" have been permitted to carry on their provocative activities? The "big parades," the "training camps," the military manoeuvres of the Nazi battalions were never interfered with by this dictatorship. From a study of events during the past few months, it appears that this veiled dictatorship has been busy suppressing the working-class opposition to these Nazi attacks. In fact, international support has been forthcoming for the upkeep, and military equipment of the Nazi "storm troops." I shall explain later on the reasons as to why the bourgoisie in other countries is so very keen on the success of Nazis in German politics.

EMERGENCY DECREES.

To call the recent measures adopted with a view to suppress the fury of the German workers against the Nazi outrages in Prussia and other places, as Emergency Decrees, would be a mistake. They were in fact an open declaration of a State of Martial Law in Prussia. The troops surrounded the Government buildings, and guarded them with machine guns. The police force was considered useless, and its prominent officers were put under arrest. In many smaller states, the "Nazi Squads" were called upon to assist the military in their task of suppression of the workers. An eye-witness to this military occupation of Berlin, and to the enforcement of these Emergency Decrees, could not help saying that the von Papen Government was nothing but a Nazi Government in practice, though not in form.

CIVIL WAR.

The measures taken by this "Fascist" Government make it quite clear that a state of civil war exists in Germany. The Berlin correspondent of the "Manchester Guardian" even goes further in the description of this state of civil war, and has catalogued the semi-military organisations, which would be arrayed against each other in battle formations. According to him, Prussia is to be the "Storming Point" in this Civil War, while in Bavaria and in some other smaller States, the Nazi uprising will be suppressed in no time. It is in the stronghold of the working class centres that the Nazis would have to render political account to the "Red Front," the Reich-banner, and other allied organisations of the working class. He pre-supposes that the Communists and the Socialists would work in alliance against the Nazi "storm troops." The military would side with the Nazis, as there is a very close relationship between the existing army and the demobilised peasant soldiers and the officers, who are the standard-bearers of the Nazi troops.

THE ALLIANCE.

But there are grave doubts regarding the alliance between the Communist and Socialist leadership against this Nazi attack whose object is to crush the solidarity of the workers. If the Nazis succeed, the fate of the German working class will be deplorable. The conditions in Italy, under the Fascist dictatorship of Mussolini, ought to serve as an eye-opener to those in Germany who are bent upon crushing the German working class by making an alliance with the Nazis. "Down with this Fascist tyranny," is bound to be the slogan of the German workers, no matter whether they are Communists or Socialists, and it is in this direction that the German workers will march their forces and keep their fighting vanguard in "step."

INTERNATIONAL COMPLICATIONS.

The Civil War in Germany cannot be an isolated instance; it involves international complications. Germany, as we know, owes her post-war economic development to foreign finance-capital. To put it in plain words, German industry, transport and commerce are mortgaged principally to American finance-capital. America will not keep quiet on seeing this state of affairs in Germany.

FRANCE TRUCULENT.

The latest press comments on the German election results show that France is repenting over the evacuation of the Rhineland. The French chauvinists indeed demand that their Government should mobilise its army to occupy the strategic zones. The rest of the Capitalist Powers are bound to support the Nazis against the German working-class. They took similar action in 1921, when they helped Denikin with arms and money to fight the first workers' state in the world. To imagine that international finance-capital would not side with any political party in Germany whose aim is to keep the working classes down is a gross delusion.

THE SOVIETS' FEARS.

A civil war in Germany is bound to involve Russia too. A Nazi Germany or a Germany occupied by French troops, would be regarded as a serious menace by the Soviet. Therefore, the attitude of Russia cannot be other than that of France in this direction, although the sides they will take may be opposite. Germany to-day is in the melting-pot, and nothing definite can be said of her future. But one thing is sure and certain, that the civil war in Germany, if it comes, will lead to another world war, more terrible, more drastic and more tragic than the one, we have witnessed.

Notes of the Day

Un-English.

The "Englishman" is true to its traditions in supporting Government's refusal to disclose the names of the hundred prisoners who are to be deported to the Andamans. But its grounds for justifying the refusal are very curious. It says: "Were these names to be published, the Extremist and the Moderate Press alike would, immediately, institute a series of tender enquiries regarding the health and bodily and mental comfort of the deportees. From enquiries the stage would be short to systematic agitation ranging, perhaps, to Parliamentary questions." So the "Englishman" would not tolerate even an inquiry into alleged grievances, let alone "systematic agitation." But agitation cannot possibly stop, however repressive Government policy may be. Indeed, repression has always given an added incentive to agitation, in India as elsewhere. Indians have now gone far beyond the stage of being content with Parliamentary questions.

Bennett's Terms.

Mr. Bennett, the Prime Minister of Canada, has constituted himself the dictator at Ottawa. He has now dictated to Britain his newest terms for the exclusion of Russian timber, against which now and again, there is such an outcry in England. There was a great deal of malicious and lying propaganda against Russian goods, particularly, timber, as it was stated, the Bolsheviks were using slave labour for the purpose. Honest and impartial observers in Russia have disproved these allegations and now Mr. Bennett has been made use of for delivering this flank attack against Russia. Britain is still 'Free Trade' at heart, for protection has been tried and failed as a panacea for unemployment. The workless in Britain now number about three millions, a colossal figure, for such a rich though small country. Will Britain succumb to this dictation from Canada and substitute a costly commodity for a cheap one for the benefit of a few capitalists and their Tory supporters in British Parliament?

Moonje Exposes Himself.

Dr. B. S. Moonje's interview with Reuter confirms the suspicions we have all along entertained that he went to England to underbid other communalists and try to make the worst possible bargain with the Secretary of State. His anti-national attitude has been condemned in his own city, and no doubt the rest of the country has no two opinions about it. We do not mind Dr. Moonje's antics, but we do mind the attitude of Hindu Mahasabha in this respect. Mahatma Gandhi once said that the Mahasabha was nationalist, because it suited its purpose. We have all along condemned the Separatist and anti-national activities of Muslims of the type of Mr. Shaffee Dawoodi and others, but we do not see any difference between them and Dr. Moonje. If India is to be made over to communalists, it matters little who they are, for one is as good or as bad as the other. Whatever Dr. Moonje may say the Consultative Committee is as dead as a door nail and nothing can resuscitate it. His interview shows that he approves of the present Whitehall procedure, which has been condemned by every self-respecting Liberal and Moderate.

Swadeshi Insurance.

"Indian Insurance" for July testifies to the good work done by Indian Insurance companies during the recent riots by accepting insurance not only against fire but against all damage to property by rioters. It does not give figures for the business done by Indian companies in this direction but it appears that a good part of the business has gone to foreign companies. That seems to be due to the fact that, while we have a sufficiently large number of Life Insurance Companies to accept all available business, we have not yet the requisite number of general Insurance companies to accept all available proposals for general insurance. That deficiency should be made good as soon as possible. There is a vast field for Swadeshi Insurance and Banking and Indian concerns should see to it that no business gets out of their hands for any slackness on their part.

HANSRAJ "WIRELESS" SENTENCED

GETS 10 YEARS' R. I.

HYDERABAD, (Sind) Aug. 11.

Hansraj "(Wireless" pleaded guilty to-day before the Sessions Judge, who sentenced him under Sections 235 and 243 of the Penal Code to five years' rigorous imprisonment each, the sentences to run concurrently and under the Arms Act to three and five years under two different sections, the sentences to run concurrently.

The aggregate term of imprisonment is ten years. The court-room was guarded, as a large crowd had collected outside.

Hansraj's mother, sisters and brothers were present at the trial and, on hearing the judgment, all wept. Hansraj, however looked cheerful.—A. P.

BURMA EDITOR CONVICTED

For Publishing Seditious Articles

RANGOON, Aug. 11.

The District Magistrate, today, passed judgment in the 'Desopakar' Sedition Case sentencing Editor A. V. Chellam Pillay to two years' rigorous imprisonment on each of the two charges under Section 124 A sentences to run concurrently for publishing three seditious articles entitled "Swaraj at one breath"; "Our Victory Chariot" and "British Demon" in the issues of 10th April and 11th May.

The Magistrate remarked that it was clear that all these three articles, whether taken together or considered separately would tend to cause hatred or disaffection towards the British Government. The accused was classed B.—A. P.

Tipsy-Cake

Ex-King Alfonso, who is on a holiday in Czechoslovakia, first learnt of the rising in Spain by telephone from "Reuters" London office. He declined to make a statement at present. A pity! He lost the only opportunity. Nobody will want to hear from him now.

* * * *

Some people will be intrigued to know why Alfonso was taking a holiday. Has he gone back to school? His feat of demolishing a dish of cream buns at a famous pastry-cook's shop the other day may be considered in connection with this possibility.

* * * *

According to Professor A. M. Low, in five or six years there will not be a criminal left in the world, as they will all have been changed into saints by the new gland treatment. We hope the magistrates will get the treatment too.

* * * *

A London firm is advertising for sale 300,000 dhoties "thrust upon the British market owing to the Boycott of Lancashire goods" at the cheap rate of 1s.-6-3/4d. each. What a chance for a great dress reform movement in England!

* * * *

But it's not being used in that way. The advertiser tempts the British house-wife with a charming description of an Indian dhoti as—

"5 yards of Cream finely woven cotton 40 ins. .....
"Ideal for Curtains, Dust Sheets, Motor Covers, in fact many house-hold purposes."

And many other purposes that the dull-witted British salesman wots not of.

* * * *

"Governments have no resource in the face of anarchy but to crush the anarchists, and they must do so whatever the inconvenience and the hardship to the innocent."—"Statesman" (Calcutta.)

Bankrupt Governments. Yes!

* * * *

"The foregoing we give on good authority from England, as the outline of a plan actually under the consideration of Ministers. Which part of it may be rejected, or what modifications it may receive, it is impossible to conjecture; but the very proposal augurs unfavourably..... Should the Tories retain office, nothing is expected for India."

Could you guess where that comes from? It is an extract from the "Bombay Courier" of August 11th 1832.

* * * *

It sounds quite up-to-date doesn't it. We have not altered one word but one letter. There is really not much difference between what Bori Bunder has to write to-day and what its prototype had to write a hundred years ago.

* * * *

Against Government warnings the Burma Council plumped for State lotteries. Or that's how the heading puts it, though a division of 33 to 31, is not correctly described by the word "plumping" as the dear Babe seems to think. Hasn't anyone at Bori Bunder got a dictionary?

* * * *

The Judicial Secretary gave the Burman M.L.C.'s a lecture on the sinfulness of gambling according to orthodox Buddhists. But they remained unimpressed, possibly holding that they were better judges than a non-Buddhist.

* * * *

He (the judicial expert) also held forth on the evil effects of state lotteries in the times of the Burmese Kings. But still the Burman M.L.C.'s remained unimpressed. They like the idea of going back to the good old times when Burma was a country fit to live in, and they felt, too, that as the present Government are without funds they haven't got much of a show-down over the old Burmese Kings.

* * * *

The judicial one further explained, referring to Irish sweeps, that it was an extremely expensive way of raising money. So it may be but it has the merit of raising the money anyway.

* * * *

The Home Member pointed out that many murders in Burma are due to gambling. And many are due to a good many other things, including the unpopularity of the Government which the Home Member represents. So the B.M.L.C.'s still remained unimpressed.

* * * *

And in the end they carried the resolution for the jolly old sweepstakes, regardless of the strong disapproval with which Bori Bunder regards any other efforts than its own to make money out of gambling. But Rangoon is a far cry and, perhaps, they can't hear the shrill squeaks of the Babe in that city.

IS GOVERNMENT A MERE POLICEMAN?

Amazing Doctrine Propounded By "The Statesman"

(By B. G. HORNIMAN).

It is extraordinary how those who express and seek to guide European opinion in this country and pose as being sympathisers with Indian aspirations persist in shirking the issues that have really to be faced, if the results for which they are professedly anxious are to be achieved.

During a debate in the Calcutta Corporation a few days ago the Mayor suggested that the leaders of opinion should "sit together and act together to find out how outrages against public men can be eliminated from public life." The "Statesman" takes up the suggestion with great warmth and in its enthusiasm incidentally discovers that the Calcutta Corporation is the one autonomous body in the land, quoting Mr. C. R. Das's description of it as the "working model of Swaraj." And it declares that "nothing could be more fitting than that this body should take a definite step and lead a movement for the suppression of Swaraj."

A DISTORTED VIEW.

The journal goes on to lament the distorted view of India that is afforded to the outside world by the fact that a terrorist crime obtains a thousand times the publicity that is given to the ordered life of the nation and it expresses passionately the hope that those "who know how many millions are the good men in India and how few the dangerous anarchists, how, nevertheless, India is coming to be looked upon as a land of savage passion and crime, must pray that all the good forces of the land will unite to make this distorted vision of India a thing of the past."

AN IMMORAL DOCTRINE.

It is a pity that the writer and those for whom he speaks cannot realise that it is their own distorted view and the policy based on it that nurses terrorism and causes it to flourish the more greatly as time goes on.

The "Statesman" propounds the extraordinary proposition that the Government cannot take the initiative in such a move as the Mayor of Calcutta suggests. Nor even could non-official Britons in India do it, because their motives are suspect. Only Indians themselves can do it. "Governments," says the journal, "have no resource in the face of anarchy but to crush the anarchists and they must do so whatever the inconvenience and the hardships to the innocent."

This doctrine that the Government has no part to play in such a matter but that of the policeman is not only novel and astounding, it is absolutely immoral. Worse still is the claim that in its task of crushing anarchists the liability of the innocent to suffer under the means adopted is of no account. If this one sentence summed up and represented the whole moral code of British governance and its expression in actual policy, it would be difficult to describe it in these columns in the terms that it would really deserve.

ILLUMINATING REVELATION.

It does provide, however, an illuminating revelation of the misguided mentality that is responsible for the tortured state of Bengal at the present time. The "Statesman" admits that the spasmodic deeds of the terrorists bear no relation to the ordered life of the nation, though it immediately makes the mistake itself of adopting the distorted view that "the life of no official and no prominent public man can be safe."

However much we may reprobate the terrorists and abhor their deeds, nothing is to be gained by speaking and writing in terms of exaggeration. The passage I have just quoted and indeed the whole article of the Calcutta journal is the product of imaginative distortion and built up on fallacies.

NOT ANARCHISTS.

In the first place the violent politicals in Bengal are not anarchists at all. They are not out to destroy ordered society which is the philosophy and aim of the anarchist. Their object is to rid their country of foreign rule and they have been driven to the belief, based on experience and observation of the sterile efforts of political agitators who have pursued constitutional and non-violent methods, that only methods of violence can be of avail in achieving their object. And their whole scheme of operations is aimed not at society in general, nor even at the members of the ruling race in general, but at those whom they regard as the instruments of the administrative machine, regardless, be it noted, of the racial identity of the victim. He may be a Britisher, a Bengali or any other Indian, an Australian or a Chinaman. The only qualification for victimisation is that he is an instrument of foreign "oppression."

HOPELESS.

However much we may condemn and deplore these crimes, however horrible we think them, it is worse than useless to ignore or blink the causes that produce them or the aims of those who commit them. Unless these are properly understood and faced the task of eliminating outrages against public men in this country must be regarded as hopeless.

At present I do regard it as such and most Indians who think sensibly regard it as such, because those who are responsible for the task of elimination have formed this unfortunate delusion that the terrorist can be eliminated by a system of drives against the whole community which go on increasing in their scope and severity and their ruthless confusion of the innocent with the guilty in proportion to the measure of the failure of each succeeding effort.

Such means can no more succeed in eliminating the terrorist from the land, than similar measures involving wholesale arrests and confusing the innocent with the guilty, could succeed in eliminating ordinary murder, theft, rape or any other sort of crime.

THE CRUX.

The fact that terrorism has grown and flourished on the policy that the Government of Bengal have pursued in their efforts to surpress it for quarter-of-a-century stares us in the face. And now we are told that the Government can only be a policeman, though of a very extraordinary kind, and the job of finding a way out of the difficulty is incontinently thrust upon the leaders of Indian opinion, who know perfectly well what the remedy is but have not the power to apply it, because they also are under the policeman.

Let me conclude with the crux of the problem, phrased like the "Statesman's" fallacious proposition in one sentence.

The Terrorist is the product of an exotic system which starves the country of its natural sustenance, physical and moral, and when that system is radically changed and the Indian comes into his rightful heritage the problem wil be solved by the self-elimination of Terrorism.

SUKKUR BREACH UNDER CONTROL

Sind Commissioner's Press Note

KARACHI, Aug. 11.

A press note issued by the Commissioner in Sind says that the breach which occurred in the Sukkur Begari bund in mile 29 on Monday midnight extended to a length of 200 feet and the discharge to-day is about 20,000 cusecs.

The press note adds that the breach is now under control and efforts are being made to close it. It is expected to be closed as soon as a drop in the river occurs, which is anticipated very shortly. The civil military and Railway authorities have been informed that all necessary precautions are being taken. If the breach is not closed by about 13th or 14th, the flood water will most probably reach the Ruk-Quetta Railway line north of Sihkharpur.

The flood is taking the same course as the northern portion of the 1930 flood, but there is no danger of the flood taking a course towards the south as happened in 1930.—A. P.

"NATIONAL THEATRE" CHANGES PROGRAMME

—:o:—

From Shakespeare To Shaw

(By Our Art And Dramatic Critic)

The "National Theatre" changed on Wednesday night its programme. It opened with a delightful little skit, written by "G. B. S." "in aid of charity" entitled the 'Dark Lady of the Sunnets." The one act play with no more than four characters is an imaginary dialogue between Queen Elizabeth and William Shakespeare. And, as the dialogues are the main point of Shaw's plays, the merely intellectual fun implied in this instructive episode enacted by England's great Queen and greatest playwright and poet would have lost significance if they had secured ineffective treatment from the two leading players. Mr. Grant Anderson and Sri Vasanti Devi, Mr. Grant Anderson as the poet depicted vividly the inherent weakness of the "King of words", a "snapper up of unconsidered trifles". Mr. Anderson was, however, more than a poet, if one could so observe. He was a missionary. His Shakespeare, or rather the Shakespeare patterned by Shaw pleads for a national theatre. The theme is, no doubt opportune.

It was, however, in the second play "A man with Red Hair," adapted by Benn Levy from Hugh Welpole's essay on "Portrait of a Man with Red Hair" that Mr. Anderson as the villian of the piece, as the "Man with Red Hair", revealed the unusual power of communicating to his listeners not only the intensity of his feeling, his dominating vindictive passion but its uncanny reaction as well. In brief he built up, bit by bit and with remarkable skill, the night atmosphere of the play. Mr. Peerzada who played the victimised lover also rose to the height of his rapidly growing talents. It is true that he was naturally halting and circumspect. But the lonely struggle in the early hours of the morning the triumph of the determined will the scared horror were rendered with a passion and feeling that could not miss their mark.

Sri Vasanti Devi, another victim was at her usual pitch relevant emotion. She was ably supported by Mr. Prithviraj and Mr. Ahmed.

TRANSFER OF PRISONERS TO ANDAMANS

CALCUTTA, Aug. 11.

During question time in Bengal Council, Sir P. C. Mitter, Member-in-Charge of Jails said that it had been decided to transfer certain convicts to Andamans, and added that the selection of all those prisoners who were to be transferred and the definite dates of the transfers of those prisoners had not been finally settled, and in any event, it would not be in public interest to give these particulars in advance.

Finally, replying to a question whether the council would be given the opportunity to discuss the policy regarding the transfer of prisoners to the Andamans, Sir Provash said that the question of the transfer was a matter for the Government of India and was not within the special purview of the House.—A. SHOCK AND SHAKE

H. P. Wants Ruthless Revolution

LONDON, Aug. 8.

Mr. Fanner Brockway in a speech at Caerleon explaining the Independent Labour Party programme, said: "We have to put forward a policy which will shock and shake the working class out of the present depression. In the place of reform we definitely urge revolution by which I mean complete economic and social transformation. Our demands, as against the comfortable classes, will be made absolutely ruthlessly."

"WANTED" FOR ONE YEAR

Chance Arrest Of Theft Case Accused

BOMBAY, Thursday.

Maruthi Balu Dhangar who had been on the "wanted" list of the police for nearly one year, in a case of house-breaking and theft, in Roha Taluka, Colaba District, was arrested by chance by a police constable yesterday morning near the Parsi Gully, Girgaum. The constable on seeing Maruthi immediately recognised him and arrested him.

Maruthi was then taken to the Lamington Road Police Station and produced to-day before Mr. I. N. Mehta, Presidency Magistrate, Girgaum, who remanded him to police custody till August 22.

Sgt. MacKenzie stated that the constable who arrested the accused had searched the accused's house and recovered some stolen property. The accused had been absconding since the last eleven months. As enquiries are to be made, the police wanted a remand.

Defence counsel, applying for bail, stated that his client had been arrested by the police out of mistaken identity.

His Worship refused bail application. The accused is to be produced before the magistrate on August 22.

THOSE FRIENDS OF INDIA!

—:o:—

Mr. B. F. Bharucha writes:—

Are not the Britishers still under the impression, that the Moderates are very simple minded people? If not, what should have led them to address a letter to Sapru, Jaykar and Joshi in the form they have done? They want Sapru & Co., to believe.

(1) That Hoare is in earnest, and means well of India!

(2) That the Cabinet is equally keen to put India on a path of peace, prigress, prosperity and Freedom!

(3) That Lord Irwin is also convinced of Government's good intentions regarding the welfare of India!

(4) And that they therefore appeal to Sapru Co., to give up non-co-operation and resume their old relations with the Government!!!

May we know: (1) Whether they are Friends of India, or Friends of British Steel Frame?

(2) If they are really friends of Britain and India, let them use all their influence for the discontinuance of the Ordinances, and the release of political prisoners. Then alone will their appeal be responded by Sapru & Co.

Preaching Boycott No Offence

Nine Schoolboys Acquitted In Appeal By High Court

BOMBAY, Thursday.

The Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Nanavaty at the High Court delivered judgment in the reference made by the Sessions Judge of Ahmedabad in two cases in which nine schoolboys were sentenced to a fine of Rs. 50 each for distributing pamphlets and handbills advocating boycott of British goods.

The Sessions Judge had recommended that the accused's conduct did not amount to an offence under section 17 (1) of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, and therefore, the sentences should be set aside. In his reference, the Judge stated that there was absolutely nothing in the section which would make the mere distribution of such literature an offence. There was no suggestion that the accused, were doing this work on behalf of any unlawful association, and therefore, their activities could not come within the expression "assist the operations of any unlawful associaton." The complaint did not disclose anything like encouragement to violence or intimidation on the part of these accused. The literature also did not contain any threats against the use of British goods. There was no law which made the preaching of boycott of any goods, whether foreign or British, an offence. If the accused were held to have preached such a boycott, that by itself, would not make them liable to be convicted.

Mr. H. V. Divatia appeared for the accused, and the Government pleader for the Crown.

NO PLEA OF GUILTY

In their judgments, Their Lordships observed that the Magistrate asked the accused whether they understood the complaint. To this, the accused replied "We all did it". The Magistrate treated this as a plea of guilty, and convicted them. "It was clear that in point of fact the statement of the accused did not amount to a plea of guilty, because merely distributing literature regarding the boycott of British goods did not in itself constitute an offence. But the result of the Magistrate's dealing with the matter was that no further evidence was called.

Their Lordships further observed: In order to justify a conviction under section 17 (1) of the Criminal Law Amendment Act of 1908, it would be necessary to show that the accused, in doing what they did, were assisting the operations of an unlawful association. In the circumstances, we must accept the reference and set aside the conviction.

Their Lordships did not think it necessary to make an order of re-trial, but left it to the discretion of the prosecution to decide whether, if they decideed on a re-trial, they could succeed producing evidence of threats etc., that would make the accused's conduct an offence.

Mother Within Two Months After Marriage!

—:o:—

Four Gujratis Taken Into Custody For Alleged Throttling Of Child

A girl in her teens belonging to the Lohana Gujerati cimmunity, her husband and two members of the family have been taken in custody by the Bhoiwada police being suspected in a crime in which a newly born child was throttled and thrown from the first floor of a building. The child was removed to the Bai Jerbai Wadia Hospital where it died.

The girl it appears was married and became a mother within two months. "What would the people say if they know that she became a mother so soon after the marriage."? The police believe that the crime was committed probably because of the fear entertained by the family that they may be treated as social outcasts.

At about 7 a.m. on Thursday morning the police found a newly born child thrown near the Anandji Lodha Chawl, Parel. There were marks of violence on the body. Subsequently the police searched a place on the first floor of the building and found a 16-year old girl. The girl was sent to the Police Surgeon who was of opinion that she had recently become a mother.

The police then took into custody the girl, her husband and two members of the family. Sub-Inspector J. K. Savant is inquiring into the case.

The prosecution case was that the accused had a son by his first wife named Mahomed Kassim aged 9. On the morning of April 29 last, the accused for a trivial reason thrashed his boy severely with an iron stick. He received about 30 bruises and died the next day owing to multiple injuries. The boy was suffering from Tuberculosis. The prosecution further alleged that the accused tried to dispose of the corpse, but in the meanwhile, he was arrested by the police.

UNFAVOURABLE WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT INFLUENCED COTTON PURCHASES IN NEW YORK

Excessive Heat Causes Shedding In West And Frequent Rains In East Revives Weevil Activity

CONSTRUCTIVE NEWS ANTICIPATED FROM WASHINGTON

Bombay, Aug. 11.

A further rise of 17 to 19 points was recorded on Wednesday in New York cotton prices on general buying influenced by unfavourable weekly weather report. The weekly Government Weather report was unfavourable as frequent rains in the East revived boll-weevil activity while hot and dry weather in the West checked weevil but caused shedding. Thus both dry and wet weather over two-thirds of the Cotton Belt is damaging the crop. The general sentiment is bullish and further constructive measures are anticipated from Washington.

The New York Cotton futures market was active and strong on general buying influenced by less favourable crop conditions and favourable conditions in dry goods trade. The market opened at about the lowest level of the day at a decline of 9 points. As soon as scattered selling was over, prices steadily advanced and established a rise of 39 points from the opening level. In the afternoon there was some long liquidation which resulted in setback of 13 points from the highest level and the market closed at a rise of 17 to 19 points. Spot Cotton prices advanced 15 points at 7.15c.

The New Orleans Cotton futures market was very firm and closed at a rise of 16 to 14 points. Spot Cotton prices advanced 14 points at 7.02c.

The Liverpool Cotton futures market opened at a decline of 5 points on unfavourable developments in the Lancashire dispute. Later with Bombay buying orders, prices recovered and closed at the best of the day. In the last hour straddle buying uplifted values but the trade support was rather disappointing. The market closed firm at a rise of 7 to 6 points. Middling American Spot Cotton prices declined 5 points at 5.22d.

East Indian Cotton prices advanced 12 points on unfavourable Indian Cotton crop news. Egyptian ring was quiet and prices closed unchanged to a rise of 3 points.

The Alexandria Cotton market was quiet and closed at a decline of 9 points.

BETTER FEEDING.

Messrs. Thos. Smith & Co. state: Unfavourable crop conditions as revealed in the weekly weather report and optimism in Wall Street has caused a further advance. Wall Street seems to be hopeful over President Hoover's re-election though no solution has yet been found in International problems. Although recently there has been some improvement in American dry-goods trade mills still continue on curtailment. 90 million dollar syndicate taking up 3 million bales cotton is not taken seriously since it is realised the mills will be less keen to buy new crop. During the weevil years of 1921, 1922, 1923 and 1927 the eventual yield was 124,141,131, and 155 lbs. per acre, respectively and it appears that present estimate includes a fair allowance for weevil damage. Everything now depends on August and September weather and should this be unfavourable then the yield may be further reduced. A better feelling seems to be definitely gaining ground and with prices still at a comparatively very low level we advise purchases on any set backs.

Nagpur And Burma Shares Firm

CHEERFUL UNDERTONE

Bombay, Aug. 11.

The local Share Bazar displayed cheerful undertone to-day. Further improvement in raw cotton prices influenced enquiry for mill shares. Bombay Dyeing and Century were quiet but steady but Nagpur and Fazal shares were fairly firm. There were rapid fluctuations and jobbers were very actively buying and selling at reasonable price. The business is broadening and things are becoming more or less normal.

In the miscellaneous section Bombay Burma and Tata Steel ordinary shares were active and strong. At the advance there was some profit-taking which resulted in a small decline from the highest level

Bombay Dyeings opened at 676¼, touched 685 and closed at 678¾. Fazuls started at 275, declined to 272½, improved to 285 and closed at 278¼. Great Scarcity Of Sellers

PROFESSIONAL OPERATORS BUYING

Bombay, Aug. 11.

The local cotton market ruled very strong and it was almost impossible to buy even 100 bales at ruling rate. There is great scarcity of sellers. The general feeling is bullish and as usual every operator whether a small or a big one, they all are buyers and it is easy to understand that when everybody is bullish it is impossible to satisfy demand without undue rise in the prices. Similar conditions prevailed today in the local forward market.

In sympathy with a rise of 17 points in New York futures on Wednesday, the local market was expected to open at Rs. 217 for Broach A.M. delivery against previous closing at Rs. 212/12, but the market opened at Rs. 216/8 and after a decline of annas eight to Rs. 216 on scattered profit taking prices advanced.

There was general buying which in conjunction with buying by professional operators advanced prices to Rs. 219/4. There was scarcity of contracts and the tone was strong.

Reports from up-country showed clear weather over the growing indian cotton crop which caused a lull. A professional bear operator sold and prices receded to Rs. 218/12. There was renewed buying at this level and prices again firmed up.

Liverpool market opened at a rise of 8 points and with renewed buying prices again reached a new high level of Rs. 223/- There was no selling even at this level because a farily large long interest was liquidated after the Bureau report. The market closed at 5-30 p. m. as under:

SPANISH REVOLT PUT DOWN.

Republicans In High Glee In Madrid

REBEL GENERAL TO BE SHOT

MADRID, Aug. 10.

The fate of the rebellion in Seville is still merely a matter of rumour owing to strict Governmental control of communications. As regards Madrid where Government proclaim their ability to consider the situation with complacency, it is reported that one of the five generals arrested is being shot at dawn.—Reuter.

CROWDED SQUARE

It is officially announced that the rising in Seville has been suppressed and order restored in Jerez.

Most exciting scenes since the proclamation of the republic were witnessed in the streets to-night. Many thousands packed the square in front of the Ministry of the Interior, waving republican flags and shouting "Sanjurjo Must Be Killed" and cheering the armed police. Sanjurjo is one of the rebel army chiefs.

Motor coaches filled with the latter, ploughed through the mob, which a grey-bearded red-capped veteran harangued.

PRESIDENT ADDRESSES

Subsequently, the Minister of the Interior emerged and addressed the crowd, which then swarmed the square in front of the ex-royal palace, and waited for President Zamora to address them.

Airmen in the evening flew over Seville, dropping pamphlets denying the overthrow of the Government.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

The Chamber has passed with acclamation a vote of confidence in the Government following an address by Premier Azana, who stated 'inter-alia' that Government were taking drastic steps to suppress the Seville rising, including the despatch of troops and edonomic measures.

HOT BED OF REDS SEARCHED FOR ARMS

—:o:—

HAMBURG, August 10.

The notorious and congested Gaenge quarter, which is a hotbed of Communists, and a refuge of many criminals, was thoroughly searched form arms by the police, who blocked every entrance and carried out systematic house to house visitations, in the course of which cupboards were opened, walls tapped for secret hiding-places and even floor boards ripped up.

The police found a small quantity of rifles, revolvers and numerouse knuckle dusters, daggers and ammunition, as also seditious pamphlets and a complete counterfeiting plant.

Fifty arrests were made.—Reuter.

CONVERSION LOAN PROGRESS

LONDON, Aug. 10.

Treasury returns showing that the greater proportion of the war loan has been converted, caused buying interest on the Stock Exchange to revert to British Government securities, which finished well above yesterday but Argentine railways were adversely affected by the warning of the two companies to the Government concerning losses.

Tin, after opening easier, recovered sharply on good buying, and finished over yesterday, while rubber improved on lower stocks in the east.—Reuter.

STRONG STEPS

—:o:—

Papers Suspended

In the absence of direct communication with Seville reports of the situation there continued to be conflicting. According fo one report, General Sanjurjo is arrested. According to another, he has been blockaded in the home of Marquis de Esquiele, where he has made his headquarters and loyal troops aided by the population have gained control of the city.

Government have taken strong steps to control the situation. Eight Righ-Wing newspapers, including 'El Debate' have been suspended indefinitely. Four Generals, Goded, Cavalcanti, Fernandez-Ferez and Carrasco are among the eighty persons arrested, many of whom are mere youths.

Casualties of the last night's shooting are now given as eight dead and fifty wounded.

SUPPORT FOR REPUBLIC.

Reports from various other provincial towns indicate enthusiastic support for the republic. Republican demonstrators in Madrid came in collision with a Communist anti-militarist procession. The Republicans seized the Communists' red flag, arrested the Communists and handed them over to the police.

The Leader of the Radical Opposition party in the Cortes visited Premier Azana this morning and expressed the full support of his party.

ALFONSO SILENT

KOENIGSWART (Czechoslovakia), August 11.

Ex-King Alfonso, who is on a holiday here, first learnt of the rising in Spain telephonically from Reuters' London office. He declined to make a statement at present.—

HOUSE-BREAKING AND THEFT

—:o:—

The magistrate, rejected the application for bail.

KOPARGAON CONFERENCE ECHO

—:o:—

President Gets Six Months

(From A Correspondent).

AHMEDNAGAR, Aug. 11.

The woman President of the Ahmednagar District Political Conference, held at Kopargaon on Monday and a Parsi, who attended the conference defying the prohibitory notice, were both sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment and fined Rs. 25 each by the Kopargaon Magistrate. They were brought down here yesterday.

The Parsi is to be tried again for breach of parole.

The other delegates of the conference arrested along with the President are not tried yet.

HUNGARIAN LEGATION ATTACKED

BRUSSELS, August 10.

Carrying clubs and other weapons concealed beneath, newspapers, a number of Hungarian Communists entered the Hungarian Legation in small knots of two or three and when all were assembled began destroying the contents, breaking the windows, knocking down the doors and smashing the typewriters. Three Legation officials, who tried to intervene, were manhandled and one of them was seriously injured in the head. Finally the police arrived and arrested four raiders, but the others escaped.—Reuter.

CREASELESS TIES

New Cotton Invention On The Market

LONDON, Aug. 11.

The process which eliminates the crease from cotton artificial silk and gabrics, the discovery of which was announced at Manchester yesterday, has already been carried through to full commercial production. It is the outcome of many year's research work by an industrial chemist, Dr. Wllows of the Tootal Broadhurst, Lee and Co. who have patented the process in Britain and twenty other countries and are extending their Glossy works to produce creaseles; fabrics.

The process also serves as a preservative to artificial silks and prevents them from rotting when washed. It is applicable also to linen, shoddy and silk and it applied after the goods are bleached, dyed or printed.

The first anticrease goods being marketed are men's ties which were chosen as the best articles to demonstrate advantages of the new discovery.

DR. ANSARI AND SHERWANI LEAVE FOR EUROPE

Once Again Appeal For Communal Unity

SAY THEIR REAL PLACE IS IN INDIA

BOMBAY, Thursday.

A warm send-off was given to Dr. M. A. Ansari, ex-President of the Congress and Mr. T. A. K. Sherwani the U. P. Congress leader who sailed for Europe this afternoon by s.s. "Victoria."

A number of friends and admirers were present on board the ship to wish them "Bon Voyage." Both of them were profusely garlanded.

Interviewed by a "Chronicle" representative on board the ship, Dr. Ansari said that personally he did not think any Congressman could do more work outside at present than in India.

"Our real place of work is India. We can do much more really useful work here than anywhere else. But I am forced to leave the country on account of my ill-health. I only hope that by this journey I shall be able to recoup it, and may be able to do some service to our motherland on my return."

Questioned about the present situation, he repeated his firm belief that the only solution of the communal wrangles was to come to a decision based on universal adult suffrage, Joint electorates, and for the present, reservation of seats for small minorities on the basis of their population.

He declared that responsible government, with separate electorates, was anomalous and will never bring about peace and harmony among the warring communities. It will on the contrary, cause rivalries and dissensions which the country has been experiencing for all these years.

The heir apparent of Hyderabad, Prince Azam Jah, and his wife Princess Durre Shahwar, also sailed by the same steamer. Among other passengers who travelled by the steamer were Sir Prabha Shankar Pattani, and Mr N. B. Saklatvala.
